2018

AT A GLANCE

Located in Bennettsville, South Carolina, and opened in 1990, Domtar's Marlboro Mill is one of North America's newest paper manufacturing facilities. The mill produces pulp and paper for a wide range of products including copy paper, tablet paper, receipt paper and lottery-ticket paper. As the last greenfield mill built in the U.S., the facility generates enough green power to supply renewable energy to 30,000 homes in South Carolina.
